

Transparent Language to Show Online Language Learning at 2014 ALA Midwinter Meeting

Leading language-learning company gearing up to demonstrate new features in web-based language-learning system to conference attendees.

Nashua, N.H., January 3, 2014 – Transparent Language, Inc., a leading provider of language-learning technology for the government, education, corporate, library, and consumer markets, is set to exhibit at the American Library Association (ALA) Midwinter Meeting, January 24-27, 2014, in Philadelphia, P.A. During the conference, representatives from Transparent Language will be available to demonstrate and discuss the new features and additions to the company's web-based language-learning system, including EveryVoice™ speech analysis technology, Easy Typing, mobile applications, and more.

Transparent Language Online for Libraries is the most complete language-learning solution available. With a scientifically-proven methodology, the widest variety of high-quality learning material, and seamless integration of real-life language use by native speakers, there is something for every language learner. Transparent Language Online for Libraries includes:

- Language-learning materials available in over 87 languages
- Unlimited access during the entire subscription period
- Compatibility with all common web browsers and operating systems
- An administrative portal that is accessible 24 hours a day, 7 days a week
- Real-time statistics with continuously updating usage reports to measure ROI
- Language-learning materials delivered entirely online with no additional media
- Mobile applications for language learning on-the-go

To speak to a representative from Transparent Language at the 2014 ALA Midwinter Meeting, visit booth 1806. If you will not be attending the conference, but would like more information, go to <http://www.transparent.com/libraries/> or email library-sales@transparent.com.

About Transparent Language, Inc.

At Transparent Language, we leverage our expertise in the research and practice of language learning to build programs for use by many US Government agencies and organizations, as well as thousands of schools, hundreds of public libraries, and millions of individuals. Our mission is to help language learners better communicate and engage with all of the world's people. We believe that a key to American success and world prosperity is the ability to understand and appreciate one another. Since 1991, we have worked to make this happen, one school, library, organization, or person at a time.